PRIVACY POLICY

Welcome to www.padoscoin.tech. We understand that privacy online is important to users of our Site, especially when conducting business. This statement governs our privacy policies with respect to those users of the Site ("Visitors") who visit without transacting business (collectively, "Services") ("Authorized Customers").

How do we protect information on website?

Our website is scanned on a regular basis for security holes and known vulnerabilities in order to make your visit to our site as safe as possible. We use regular Malware Scanning. Your connection is contained behind secured networks and is only accessible by a limited number of persons who have special access rights to such systems, and are required to keep the information confidential.

What Personally Identifiable Information is collected?

We physically can't. We have nowhere to store it. We don't even have a server database to store it. So even if Miley Cyrus asked nicely to see your data, we wouldn't have anything to show her. What happens on your computer stays on your computer. Whenever you want to send your data to your CRM or MailChimp or Google Docs, – it only moves when you tell it to, and over their secure connections. No middleman.

WHAT IS A SECURE CONNECTION?

When a secure connection is established between your browser and a website, any data that is transferred over the connection will be encrypted to prevent it from being viewed by a third party. Encryption makes it very difficult for anyone to intercept or decode messages exchanged over this type of secure connection.

Browsers such as Internet Explorer, Firefox, and Safari display an image of a locked padlock on their status bar when connected to a secure site. Google Chrome shows a green locked padlock on the far left side of the status bar when there is a secure SSL connection. Firefox colors the address bar yellow when connected to a secure site. Secure transactions are also indicated when the prefix in the location bar of your browser switches from `http://` or `https://`. The additional 's' stands for 'secure' and indicates a secure connection to the PADOSCOIN website. If you do not see this padlock, if it is unlocked, or if the protocol in the location bar is not listed as `https://`, then any data exchanged with the website is potentially visible to others.

Depending on your browser, you may be able to view authentication information about a secure page by double-clicking on the padlock icon in the status bar. For more information on how your software establishes a secure connection, see the help files for your particular browser.

Security

The security of your Connection is important to us, but remember that no method of transmission over the Internet, or method of electronic storage, is 100% secure. While we strive to use commercially acceptable means to protect your Personal Information, we cannot guarantee its absolute security.

Your rights

These are summarized rights that you have under data protection law

The right to access

The right to restrict processing

The right to object to processing

The right to data portability

The right to complain to a supervisory authority

What happens if the Privacy Policy Changes?

We will let our Visitors and Authorized Customers know about changes to our privacy policy by posting such changes on the Site. However, if we are changing our privacy policy in a manner that might cause disclosure of Personally Identifiable Information that a Visitor or Authorized Customer has previously requested not be disclosed, we will contact such Visitor or Authorized Customer to allow such Visitor or Authorized Customer to prevent such disclosure.
